Subject: RE: Member budget funding for PV2 survey - London Road, Davenham

Dear Vicky

Please find attached the results of the pedestrian / vehicle survey completed on London Road, Davenham on Tuesday 25th October 2016. The results of the survey show a PV^2 of 0.12 and an Adjusted PV^2 of 0.16. As you can see from the criteria below these results show that due to the number of vehicles and pedestrians crossing this section of London Road it does not pass for any highway improvements in the form of a zebra or signal controlled crossing as the results have to be over 0.2. If you have any further queries regarding any highway improvements please contact Jerry Gibbs. Jerry is aware of the results of this survey. If you have any queries relating to the results of this survey please don't hesitate to contact me.

$PV^2=$ 0.12 $\times 10^8$

Adjusted $PV^2=$ 0.16 $\times 10^8$

If adjusted PV^2 is greater than 0.6×10^8 consider either a zebra crossing or signal controlled crossing.

If adjusted PV^2 is between 0.2×10^8 and 0.6×10^8 consider other measures such as carriageway narrowing, central refuges and traffic calming.

I have also attached a report showing the cost of this survey. I will ensure that the £700 is split as per your email below.

Thanks very much.
